

Weatherproof while-in-use covers for residential and commercial applications

Code Keeper® nonmetallic covers meet CEC requirements for outdoor receptacle protection

In-use weatherproof covers are now required to protect outdoor receptacles from wet weather, even when electrical devices are plugged in. Red-Dot® Code Keeper® nonmetallic covers are ideally suited for residential and light-duty commercial environments.

- Robust new hinge provides a sturdy cover attachment that is great for high-traffic areas
- Hinge pin design allows for vertical or horizontal mounting on the single gang
- Available in single- or two-gang configurations and standard or deep styles
- Keyhole mounts make it fast and easy to install – just loosen the existing device screws and slide the cover over
- Covers come with adapter plates and pre-adhered gaskets
- Unique wasp guard included to keep out unwanted pests
- Lockable for security when not in-use
