

SKS050

By TradeSelect
Catalog Number SKS050

EMT SET SCREW COUPLING STEEL 0.50IN.

General

|             |                                                                                                                                         |
|-------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Application | For use in dry locations to couple two ends of EMT conduit. Die cast set screw connectors provide concrete-tight connections when taped |
| Material    | Steel                                                                                                                                   |
| Type        | Straps                                                                                                                                  |
| UPC         | 626463035498                                                                                                                            |

Certifications and Compliance

|                      |               |
|----------------------|---------------|
| Industry Standard(s) | CSA Certified |
|----------------------|---------------|

Logistics

|                 |    |
|-----------------|----|
| Carton Quantity | 50 |
|-----------------|----|

